

Principal's message on the last school day dated 9th July 2010

Good morning, teachers and students,

Today is the last school day of the school year 2009-10 and I must congratulate you all on completion of the year's study in CSK. At the same time, on behalf of the school, I must thank our teachers for their devoted hard work in helping you to strive for excellence over the past year. To show our gratitude, please join me to give our teachers a big hand. Thank you.

I hope you still remember that at the beginning of the school year, I had told you that your ways ahead were not as straight as you might think and you could only achieve your goal after self-evaluation, planning and implementation. Now, it is the time for you to have self-evaluation again. Also, I must repeat again that CSK boys are boys of good potentials and you should have confidence that you can do better if you really want to do so. Therefore, please don't hesitate but "Act now" for your future.

As you may be aware I am going to retire by the end of this school year, I would like to share with you what I would pray for you after my leave:

May God help my students to be smart that they can tuck in their shirts and can cut their hair short.

May God help my students to be kind that they can pick up any litter from the floors and can bring their used food containers to the collection boxes.

May God help my students to be gentle that they can keep silence in the library, in lessons and in heading towards classrooms, laboratories or other special function rooms.

Furthermore, I would also pray

May my students respect and care for each other.

May my students work together in facing changes and challenges.

May my students develop a love of learning, life-long and life-wide.

May my students develop a sense of responsibility for the good of the local and world community.

May my students have a healthy lifestyle mentally and physically

May my students have a sense of belonging to their school and to the wider Lasallian family.

Finally, I wish you all a successful future. Thank you.
